Closing Ceremonies Over the Dead Anarchists.

SPEECH BY CAPTAIN BLACK.

At the Grave—Mrs. Parsons Overcome by Emotion—Handsome Floral Tributes.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

CHICAGO, December 18.—The four Anarchists who were hanged on November 11th, August Spies, A. R. Parsons, Adolph Fischer and George Engel, and Louis Lingg, who cheated the gallows by committing suicide the day before, were placed in their final resting place in the Waldheim Cemetery to-day. Two funeral trains from the city carried about 800 people to the cemetery. The demeanor of their occupants partook more of the nature of a picnic party than a funeral. At the cemetery the crowd gathered around a lot situated near the entrance and the coffins were taken from the vault and carried to the spot where the crowd had assembled. Spies' casket was borne by six members of the Typographical Union; Parsons' by members of his old Assembly Knights of Labor; Engel's by the German Fresco Painters Union and Louis Lingg's by a committee from the Carpenters' Assembly. On Spies' and Fischer's coffins were

FLOWERS AND RED RIBBONS.

On Parsons' was a bouquet of red and yellow roses, which served to bring out in bold relief the red cloths which covered the casket. From Engel's and Lingg's coffins the undertakers removed the lids and the chief mourners took their places. Among the mourners were near relatives and friends of the dead Anarchists, including Mrs Schwab, whose husband is in the penitentiary, Nina Van Zandt and Lingg's girl and Elsa Freidel. Nina Van Zandt chattered continually with Captain Black, and showed no signs of emotion. R. Buchan acted as master of ceremonies. The embalming process had been a success and the dead all looked lifelike, and not a trace of decomposition was to be seen. A memorial hymn was sung by the Milwaukee Socialistic Mannerch r, and Captain Black then spoke in substance as follows:

BLACK'S ADDRESS.

"It is now nearly nineteen centuries since there came into the world one whose name is a household word wherever civilization has shed its light. Whatever may be our personal views of Christ, we all know that He brought most prominently to light two thoughts which have been in the world ever since then. One establishes the connection in the relationship between us and the eternal God; the other is the thought of universal brotherhood, for we know that we are yet children of the infinite bound up in the eternal destiny, as children of one father. We are brethren all. No man until the coming of Jesus knew the secret which broke down the narrow barriers of race and distinctions of place and circumstances. When He came the world at large had no place for Him, and a stable was His birth place and a manger was His cradle. What shall I say concerning the civilization which boasts His name to-day. As we look back over the long ages that have occupied

THESE NINETEEN CENTURIES,

We can take heart and courage that His doctrine of love is yet alive, for in spite of much forgetting, we still find in the long march of centuries that there have been faithful hearts who have acknowledged the beauty and glory of His teachings. And it is not all, that places of power and wealth had no room for Him when He came, but when He went, what was it? He taught the world Divine fatherhood, but when Jesus added the teaching of universal brotherhood to all mankind, Pharisees and priests, scribes and Levites combined with one accord to send Him to a felon's death.

The speaker then traced the lifework of Christ and His efforts to bring about practical fraternity. For this He was cast out by the Scribes and Pharisees. "Whatever might be said of their method, the dead Anarchists had labored for universal brotherhood and

UNIVERSAL PEACE.

Yet the world had nothing for them but the gibbet." He would apply the words of that great teacher of centuries ago to the lesson of the hour: "Except a grain of wheat fall into the ground and die it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit."

The world's history is and has been, that every milestone in the path of progress has stood as a tablet over murdered dead who laid the foundation for the structure of real progress and advancement. And there have been many of those who have loved the common cause and common people so truly, that unmindful of their personal welfare, they have been ready to shed their blood. But is there to such as these, the fate of oblivion? No, lives like theirs that go out in the splendid service of supreme sacrifice are never lost. I care not what their beliefs are concerning the unseen; I know that even if they believe not, the eternal father is faithful and that hearts that pass out of life in the service of humanity will be called and gathered into His embrace.

CLOSING SCENES.

After Captain Black's address, Paul Grottkau of Milwaukee, and Albert Currlin, of St. Louis, delivered speeches in German, praising the virtues of the dead Anarchists and the cause for which they died. After the ceremonies were over, the caskets were closed and lowered in a grave which had been dug twelve feet deep and walled up with granite blocks. Just before the granite capstone was placed up over the grave, two large wreaths, ordered by the New York Freiheit, Most's paper, were placed in the grave.

AN INTERESTING INCIDENT.

The only dramatic feature of the occasion was brought about by Mrs. Parsons the dusky wife of the dead anarchist. She had kept in the background at the cemetery during the preliminary exercises. A few moments before Captain Black, chief counsel for the anarchists, concluded his address and while the spectators were in a manner spell-bound by the Captain's rhetoric, some one shouted, "make way for Mrs. Parsons." Passage-way was made and Mrs. Parsons, accompanied by Mr and Mrs. William Holmes, came forward.

THE NEAREST COFFIN

To her was that of August Spies'; her husband's was second from this. Mrs. Parson's eyes seemed to pick out the casket in which she was most interested, and the moment her gaze caught it she gave voice to a wail which startled the crowd. Captain Black paused in his speech, and the screams from Mrs. Parsons reached to the outer circle of the crowd; then she strove to speak, but the words refused to come out, and she sank fainting into the arms of friends. Some men near her made snow-balls and rubbed her temples, and when she showed signs of consciousness she was carried away.

LIFE IN HONDURAS.

Strange Customs That Prevail in the Villages of the Caribs.

The approaches from the interior of Honduras to Truxillo are mere trails through the mountains. The only means of transportation is by pack mules. Most of the houses in Truxillo are long, low-roofed, one-story dwellings built of stone and mortar, cool and well adapted to the climate. Very substantial, I am told they are; indeed, some of them have been standing hundreds of years. They are anything but picturesque looking, being totally unornamented on the outside. It seemed to me that all the houses looked alike; in fact, an air of sameness pervades the place.

The surrounding scenery, on the other hand, compensates for the dullness, and makes a beautiful frame for a very plain picture.

Behind the town is a high range of mountains thickly wooded, with little streamlets trickling down to the sea. In the valleys on either side are Carib villages—one the village on the Rio Crystallis, the other on the Rio Negro. We visited the Carib town on the Rio Crystallis and found it a much larger settlement than it appeared to be. The so-called Caribs are, properly speaking, not Caribs, but are the descendants of an African tribe. Yet they most decidedly object to being classed as negroes, and boast that they have never been slaves. They are quite like the ordinary negro, with this exception, that they are scrupulously clean about their persons.

As is common among most peoples of rude civilization, the women are the drudges. They are the hewers of wood and the drawers of water, and it is not uncommon to see mother paddling a dory load of bananas, with her infant squatting in the bottom of the boat.

When a man among the Caribs wishes to take unto himself a wife, he hews himself out a dory, and with the assistance of his friends and a jug of rum, gathers together the wherewithal to build his hut, which consists of a few poles, a pile of clay to form the floor and to fill in the wicker work sides of his house, and some leaves of the cohune palm to thatch the roof with. He then clears off a patch of ground and plants a few ears of corn and casava root. This he calls his plantation. He is then considered an eligible swain, and is in a position to choose a partner from among the dusky maidens.

The plantation is entirely looked after by the woman. She gathers the corn to make tortillas, and digs the cassava root to make her bread. I visited a Carib house and watched the operation of cassava bread making. They first wash the root, then grate it on a board studded with small, sharp particles of flint to form a rough surface; then strain it in order to extract the surplus juice, which is considered poisonous. Their mode of straining is extremely primitive. The article used as a strainer is a long, snake-like arrangement, made from a species of palmetto grass plaited together, and looks exactly like a huge serpent. It is about eight feet long and about three inches in diameter, and open at one end. The strainer is suspended on a hook from the rafters, the grated cessava is poured in, and then a heavy weight is attached to the lower end, which causes the strainer to contract and so expresses the juice. After it has been thoroughly strained it is baked into large, flat cakes, which form the daily bread of the Carib.

These appliances for making the cassava bread, together with a couple of stools, a table and the inevitable hammock, comprise the furnishings of the house.

While walking through the town we happened on the school. There were about fifty Carib boys all orderly and clean-looking, taught by a young Spaniard. The text books are all Spanish, the story and geography of Honduras being the principal studies. We had a delightful ride on horseback along the beach and up the Rio Crystallis, where we surprised a number of Carib women who were washing clothes in the stream. There they stood, kneedeep in the water, rinsing the clothes and putting them to dry on the stones. While riding up hill and fording the river we gave the horses the reins and allowed them to choose their own path, and, to the utter consternation of the Carib washerwomen, the horses walked right over the spotless clothes.

The beautiful crystal stream finds its source away up in the mountains, and besides lending a charm to the surrounding scenery, furnishes the town of Truxillo with drinking water. It is brought into the city by the Carib women in jugs, for which they charge a half real a jug.

It is a strange sight to witness these Carib women, with a shawl, sometimes of wool, but generally of silk, thrown, mantilla fashion, over their heads and their shoulders, arms and feet, being without any covering save what Dame Nature provided.—[New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Some day, let us hope, laws and court proceedings will be instituted for the sole purpose of getting at the facts of a criminal case, and superior courts will have justice as their aim, rather than the preservation of technicalities of doubtful importance.—[Milwaukee Sentinel.

WORK FOR THE WEEK.

Only Three Bills to be Discussed in the Senate.

A LONG LIST OF NOMINATIONS

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

WASHINGTON, December 18.—There is no joint purpose on the part of the Senators either to do or to abstain from doing any given thing during the coming week. The Senate calendar contains only three bills which can be taken up for action. One of them is for the refunding to States the direct tax of 1861, and the other two relate to ports of entry in Oregon and Washington Territory.

Among the bills likely to be called and referred to committees are Hale's Civil Service resolution; the Constitutional amendment by Dolph, empowering Congress to legislate upon marriage, divorce and polygamy; and Mitchell's bill to abrogate all treaties and repeal all laws which permit the immigration of Chinese.

THE CABINET NOMINATIONS.

Seem to be waiting the motion of the Judiciary Committee, to which the nominations of Lamar and Vilas were sent. The belief is general that no action will be taken therein till after the holiday recess. The nomination of Secretary Fairchild has already been reported from the Finance Committee and that of Dickinson is ready to be reported from the Postoffice Committee. The total number of nominations before the Senate is 449, not more than a dozen of which have been reported back from the committees.

AN IMPORTANT MEASURE.

The sub-committee on Finance, which has for more than a year been studying the subject of undervaluation, has perfected an elaborate bill of twenty-four printed pages which will be submitted to the full committee tomorrow morning, and probably be reported to the Senate during the day.

THE HOUSE.

The few days in which the House will be in session, during the coming week, will in all probability be devoted to the discussion of rules which are to govern the proceedings of the House for the present Congress. The Committee on Rules is to be announced to-morrow, and an early adjournment will be had in order to enable that committee to formally organize and proceed speedily to the consideration of the proposed changes which have already been referred to it.

NOTES FROM NEVADA.

A Slight Wreck at Reno—Shooting Scrape Up Country.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 18.—A Reno, Nevada, special to the Examiner, says: By the carelessness of a brakeman this morning two cars loaded with cattle were thrown from the turn-table in the yard of the Southern Pacific. The cars were badly damaged, one steer killed outright and a number badly injured. The cattle are the property of Havs & Co., of Oakland, who will file a claim for damages.

A NEW STYLE OF SETTLEMENT.

Early this morning William Tinkham, a rancher residing in Spanish Spring Valley, attempted the life of John Hogan, landlord of the hotel at which he was stopping. Upon leaving, Hogan requested him to settle his bill. Tinkham's response was a shot from a revolver, the ball glancing Hogan's right ear and carrying away a lock of hair. He attempted to shoot again but Hogan had gained a place of safety. Tinkham was finally overpowered and is now in jail. Tinkham has a good reputation for peace and quietness and his action is ascribed to drink.

BASEBALL.

The St. Louis Browns Badly Beaten by the Chicagos.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 18.—At the Central Park this afternoon the Chicagos defeated St. Louis, by a score of 17 to 3. Foutz and Bushong formed the battery for the latter club, and Carroll and Ryan for Chicago. Attendance 6000.

G. AND M'S VS. NEW YORK.

The Greenhood and Moran's were defeated by the New Yorks to-day by a score of 6 to 1. The principal feature of the playing was the poor fielding of the former, who made eleven errors. The game was played under the new rules. Keefe striking out 13 and Van Haltern 8. Attendance, 10,000.

HERALDS VS. C. J.S.

LIVERMORE, December 18.—The fourth and decisive game of the series of baseball between the Herald and C. J. clubs, for the championship of eastern Alameda county, was won to-day by the Heralds by a score of 13 to 12.

PIONEERS VS. SAN JOSE.

SAN JOSE, December 18.—The Pioneers were badly defeated by the San Joses to-day by a score of 7 to 2.

IN OTHER STATES.

There are but three States in the Union where the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors is prohibited by constitutional provisions. These States are Rhode Island, which adopted on April 7, 1886, an amendment to its constitution to that effect by a majority of 5,883; Maine, which had statutory prohibition for thirty-five years and adopted it into the constitution September 8, 1884, by a majority of 46,972, and Kansas, where an amendment was adopted November 2, 1880, by a majority of 7,998.

It is generally thought that Iowa also has constitutional prohibition, the mistake arising from the fact that a majority was given in that state June 27, 1882, of 29,759 in favor of an amendment, but some error having been committed, the supreme court decided the amendment had not been adopted. However, the succeeding legislature passed laws in accord with the will of the people as expressed in that election, and Iowa has the most stringent laws in the country on the subject.

An attempt to amend the constitution of Ohio was defeated on an amendment being submitted to the people, voted October 14, 1883.

In August, 1881, North Carolina voted on a constitutional amendment, snowing it under by a majority of 116,072. The vote for prohibition was 48,001.

Florida, on November 2, 1886, adopted a new constitution and a local option article, which was voted on separately. The article was adopted by a majority of 16,929; the majority for the constitution was 10,560. The provisions of laws framed under the local option article have been taken advantage of in many parts of the State.

Dakota on November 3, 1885, voted on a constitution, which was proposed for the State of Dakota. A prohibition article was adopted by a vote of 15,570 to 15537, a majority of 233.

In 1850 Michigan adopted a constitution by a majority of 26,716, out of a total vote of 35,532. One provision was: "The Legislature shall not pass any act authorizing the grant of a license for the sale of ardent spirits or other intoxicating drinks." In 1853 the Legislature, to obtain an expression of the will of the people, submitted the question: Shall a statute be passed prohibiting the sale of liquor? The people said yes to this by a majority of 19,030. A Prohibitory statute was passed and remained in force until 1875, when the law was repealed and a statute enacted taxing the liquor traffic. The question was then submitted to the people: Shall the anti-license provision of the constitution be stricken out? Before the vote the supreme court decided that the law passed for taxing the liquor traffic was constitutional, and little interest was then taken in the election which was held in 1876. The vote for striking out was 60,639 and against 52,561.

Vermont, in 1853, submitted the question to her people: Shall the statute now on the books prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors stand? The vote was in favor of the statute by 1121 majority.

The Wisconsin Legislature, in 1853, asked the people to say whether a prohibitor statute should be passed. The majority for such a statute was 3410. The Legislature of 1855 passed a prohibitory law, but Governor Barstow vetoed it.

Georgia has a local option law which has been in effect some years. Gradually the area of prohibition in that state has been extended until a good portion of it is dry. The question is voted on by the people every two years.

The question of licenses or no licenses is submitted at every election in Massachusetts and the officials abide by the result, which is generally in favor of licenses.

In Arkansas there is a local option law which allows the people to vote every two years at a general election for or against licenses. The Prohibitionists carried seven counties in 1884 and twenty-five in 1886.—[Post-Dispatch.

About Irving.

Irving's receipts for his first week of Faust, at the Star theater, were nearly $23,000—the exact figures are $22,960. This is about $4000 in excess of the best first week of his two previous visits. Last Saturday, when Faust was played at the matinee and The Bells and Jingle at night, the day footed up $6830. We believe that this immense business will grow larger the longer the great English tragedian remains with us.

On Tuesday, November 29th, Mr. Irving, Miss Terry and the Lyceum company gave a matinee performance of Faust for the benefit of the Henry Ward Beecher Statue Fund, Messrs. Abbey and Schoeffel giving the use of the Star theatre and Mr. Irving, Miss Terry and the members of the Lyceum company their services. The result will undoubtedly add nearly $4000 to the fund.

Faust cost $80,000 to produce at the London Lyceum. Some notion of the lavish expense bestowed upon it can be obtained from the fact that the chime of eight bells, which are only heard for fifteen seconds in the cathedral scene, cost $5500. Before the curtain rose last Monday evening the preliminary expenses amounted to over $25,000. The regular running expenses are over $1500 a performance.

California is anxious to see Irving in Faust; but, for pecuniary reasons, the trip would be impracticable without a guarantee fund of at least $50,000. Besides the loss of twelve days, in going and returning, a company of one hundred persons and five hundred and forty tons of scenery, costumes and properties would have to be transported at Interstate Commerce bill rates. Doubtless there is plenty of gold in California; but Irving need not sigh for it while greenbacks are so plentiful on this side of the Rockies.

The magnificent audience for The Bells and Jingle, on Saturday night, was a personal compliment to Irving. He drew it without the aid of sensational scenery and novel effects, and without the co-operation of Miss Terry. "Alone I did it!" he might have exclaimed, like Edwin Forrest, had he not been too modest for self-gratulation.

With The Bells everybody is familiar. Jingle is played as a farce, in one act and five scenes. It was a delight to see the characters of Dickens so perfectly presented as the "Pickwick" of Mr. Howe, the "Winkle" of Mr. Emery, the "Snodgrasse" of Mr. Havil nd, the "Sam Weller" of Mr. Harvey, and the "Fat Boy" of Mr. Archer. Now, as at its first representation in London, the "Jingle" of Irving is inimitable. It is the man himself stepped out of the "Pickwick Papers." The double bill was so heartily received that it will be repeated on Saturday evening of next week. This Saturday, Louis XI, which is probably Irving's most popular character in this country, and certainly one of his grandest impersonations. Faust all next week. The Merchant of Venice is in rehearsal.

The piteous plea of Henry George to the workingmen to support his paper is an evidence that his position as an authority among them has ceased to exist. But it does not seem hardly fair that he should be so severely rapped over the knuckles by the New York Tribune after his loyal service to the Republican party during the recent campaign as a Platt annex.—[Albany Argus, Dem.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Oregon Excursionists Heading for Home.

PRIZE-FIGHT AT SAN JOSE.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

SALEM, Or., December 18.—The California "last spike" excursionists had a pleasant day for their run through Oregon. The train left Ashland shortly before 7 o'clock this morning, the second train, carrying the Oregon contingent, following shortly afterwards. The two trains made a short stop at Medford, where a large crowd was in waiting. In front of Medford station there was a fine display of Oregon apples and vegetables. Mr. Charles Crocker was called for by the crowd and spoke briefly, reiterating the sentiments given in his Ashland address, and was followed by Col. John P. Irish, who made one of his characteristic speeches.

At the town of Gold Hill there was another expectant crowd of people and a brass band.

Short stops were made at Grant's Pass, Roseburg, Eugene and Albany.

At Roseburg short addresses were made by Mr. Crocker and Mr. Pixley, also at other points. The trains then made the run to this city without any further delays, arriving at 10:35 o'clock. To-morrow morning a reception will occur at the State Capitol building, after which the journey to Portland will again be taken up, arriving there in the afternoon. The programme is for the Californians to leave Portland on the return trip Wednesday, arriving in San Francisco on Thursday morning.

A CORRECTION.

By mistake the name of Judge Stearns of Oregon was included in the list of speakers at the driving of the last spike at Ashland yesterday. It should have been Joseph Stearns of the Sacramento Board of Trade.

ENDED IN A ROW.

SAN JOSE, December 18.—About 600 persons assembled at the Pavilion last night to witness the fight to a finish with skin gloves between Billy Hamilton and Jack Reardon for $250 a side. The Sheriff and two deputies were present to prevent slugging, accordingly four-ounce gloves were substituted for two-ounce ones. The fight was called at 12:20. For the first four rounds both were cautious, but in the fifth round, after hot infighting, the men clinched, regardless of the referee's cry of "break away," and both fell down, rolling and fighting along the floor. While the referee was trying to separate them, Hamilton's second assaulted Reardon's second without any apparent cause, the spectators broke into the ring, and a general fight was imminent, when Sheriff Swigert restored order. Referee Barnes announced that the fight will be continued within three days, the time and place to be announced.

LATER—THE REFEREE'S DECISION.

The fight has been given to Hamilton by the referee, who decided early this morning that the men should go back to the park and fight it out, which Reardon refused.

TIT FOR TAT.

Brewers Boycott Barley Raised in Prohibition States.

CHICAGO, December 18.—Considerable stir has been caused by the fact leaking out that the Keely Brewing Company has instructed its brokers to buy no barley grown in or shipped from Iowa or Kansas. The secretary of the company says, "if they will not buy our beer it is quite proper that we should refuse to buy their barley."

Lewis Huyck, a millionaire maltster, said that if there was a general movement he would join it heartily. He declared that the farmers of Iowa were hypocrites, pretending to believe in prohibition and raising barley for the manufacture of whiskey and beer.

IN BAD LUCK.

Clark's Pottery Establishment Destroyed by Fire.

SACRAMENTO, December 18.—This afternoon the large pottery establishment of N. Clark and Son was discovered to be on fire. The fire department was soon on the ground, but only one stream could be used as only one water main was in the vicinity. The Southern Pacific company, however, sent out a water train and did good work in suppressing the flames, but nearly the entire establishment with its contents was burned to the ground. A great amount of finished pottery was burned, and much valuable machinery damaged. Five or six carloads of wood standing near the building were burned. The loss is estimated at over $30,000, fully insured.

A FOND FATHER.

Touching Trait, Characteristic of the Indian Race.

PORTLAND, December 18.—A few days ago an Indian came to Sam Shield's place, on Cottonwood Creek, Grant county, carrying the corpse of his twelve-year-old son, and asked for lumber to make a coffin. He said that he was one of a party of Umatillas, who were up in the mountains on their annual hunt, and his boy, while handling his gun, had accidentally shot himself. Mr. Shields had no lumber to give him, so rolling the body in a blanket he placed it on his shoulders and started for the Umatilla reservation, over fifty miles distant.

More Smallpox.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 18.—Three cases of smallpox were discovered to-day by Health Officer Meares, in different localities in the city. All three were sent to the hospital, and the houses thoroughly fumigated. On Saturday night and Sunday Dr. Meare's investigated over a dozen cases that were reported to be smallpox, but only found three real cases.

Sailors Maltreated.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 18.—A Chronicle's special from Tacoma, says that mates Gibbs, Alis and Bessy deserted from the ship Reaper at Port Townsend, and it was learned that shortly after leaving Cardiff they began a system of abuse to the crew that resulted so badly to one, a Frenchman, that he was put on board a returning ship in a dying condition. The crew refuse to talk, as they wish first to get the money due them.

Cleveland and New York.

The New York Evening Post is represented by some of the Republican editors as one of the severest critics of the President's alleged interference in New York politics, and yet this is what the Post has to say about the matter the day after the election:

"It is not, as some of our contemporaries hint, a purely personal victory for Cleveland. It is simply a victory for Cleveland as the exponent of honest government. So far as the individual Cleveland is concerned it means nothing. So far as the individual stands as the representative of reform—a public officer with backbone, grit, sound sense, courage, fidelity to principle and patriotism—it means everything. It is the voice of the people calling with no uncertain sound for a continuation of the kind of administration of which Cleveland, Hill and Hewitt are the representatives. And the voice of the people will not be still next November.

The animosity that exists between the Republicans and the Prohibitionists has all the well-known bitterness of a family feud. The Democracy is not bitterly assailed by the third party people for the simple reason that they have no charges of deception or violated faith to lay at the Democratic door. The Democrats have given them no promises, but have, as a rule, been their open, fair and square opponents for the reason that Democracy is opposed to paternalism. For these reasons the Prohibitionists aim only to defeat Democracy in elections by regular methods, while they would "smash the Republican machine" with a good deal more of pleasure than which comes of a mere political success. All the arguments of the Republican leaders are thrown away on these devotees of conscience. Coaxing and abuse are alike impotent.—[Washington Post, Dem.

If Mr. Blaine is not stronger now in New York than he was three years ago; if he cannot bring to the Republican party the fluctuating and uncertain vote which decides the State, then he will have to be laid aside as a sacrifice to party necessities. This is the stern and hard common sense of the situation. With all the admiration which Republicans may have for him, it would be foolish and suicidal to name him for the Presidency when the conditions of success in 1888 will be the same as they were in 1884, and when he or his friends cannot show that he will be likely to poll more votes in New York than he did when he was beaten.—[Philadelphia Bulletin, Republican.

The prediction is made that the chief object of both parties in the coming session of Congress will be to prevent the other side from doing anything. But should such be the case, let it not be forgotten that the voters of this country are not fools. They will locate the responsibility.—[Kansas City Times, Dem.

A Train Goes Over a Bridge in New Brunswick.

BATHURST, N. B., December 18.—A train on the Inter-Colonial Railway, composed of an engine, the new plow and a passenger car, went off the bridge near Caraquette yesterday afternoon. Of the thirteen men on board the conductor, engineer, fireman and four section men were pinned down under the engine in the bed of the river and killed. The others were badly bruised but not fatally injured.

A Bloody Engagement.

ST. PETERSBURG, December 18.—An official messenger says that there has been a conflict in Syria between Bedouins and Druses, in which the latter had 160 killed and 300 wounded.

Disturbances in India.

CALCUTTA, December 18.—It is reported that the force under Bundir Jung has been dispersed with great loss of life.

The Webster-Brady Company.

There was a very good house last night to witness the second representation of the Lights o' London, and judging by those observed in the auditorium, Los Angeles is not so Puritanical as some people seem to imagine. As on the opening night, the audience testified uproariously their approbation of the piece, which is founded on lines calculated to interest those who delight in a sensational entertainment. The members of the company are hard at work rehearsing for next week's production of She, and promise that it will be placed on the stage as elaborately as money and good workmanship will permit.

The Campanini Concerts.

The coming of Campanini, Scalchi and the other artists of this great troupe is the absorbing topic in musical and fashionable circles. The company is expected to arrive to-day from San Francisco. The sale of seats for each concert will be opened to-day at 10 A. M. at Bartlett's. The season ticket sale is already large.

Proof Etchings.

Twenty-five thousand dollars worth of etchings just received at the Art Store of Franklin & Kugemann, 29 South Spring street. The selection on exhibition includes works of art by renowned native and foreign artists and comprises Klackner's complete publication.

If the Republican party is going to break the solid South, it must turn over a new leaf in the selection of candidates. It would be an insult to the old Free States to ask them to support a party which presented a repudiator like Mahone in Virginia, or a corruptionist like Congressman-elect Butler, of Tennessee, who narrowly escaped expulsion for selling a cadetship when he was in the House years ago, and who accepted a $5000 bribe in the recent Tennessee canvass to flop over and oppose prohibition. It is none the less an insult to the old slave States for the party of moral ideas to present such representatives.—New York Evening Post, Ind. Rep.

Mr. William M. Evarts is reported as saying that he thinks civil service reform would have thrived if Mr. Blaine had been elected to the Presidency. There are people who are beginning to wonder what Mr. William M. Evarts will not say if the party exigency shall seem to require it. The worst of it is that Mr. Evarts is a bad judge as to what party exigencies do require. Mr. Evarts might well say something that would require less strain of conscience, and yet be far more useful because much more within the realm of plausibility.—[Boston Herald, Ind.

The anthracite strike promises to last all winter. Whether the men can keep body and soul together that long without work is a serious question. Starvation may compel them to yield, though they deserve to win from the justness of their cause. The anthracite coal barons will have much to answer for in the next world because of the hardships they put upon their workmen.—[Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

WOLFSKILL AVENUE IS 100 FEET WIDE!

And four of its other principal avenues are 80 FEET WIDE!

A strip of land—300x1900 feet in size—fronting on Alameda street, between Fourth and Sixth streets, containing 13 acres, was donated by the owners to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, who are now building upon said land its General Passenger Depot, similar in design, but more elaborate and expensive than the Arcade Depot at Sacramento. The ground plans and elevation of this Depot, one of the finest in the world, are now on view at our office. The building will be 507 4-12 feet long and 141 feet wide; the main approach and entrance facing Fifth street and Wolfskill avenue, the trains entering the Depot from Alameda side. The building will be constructed of brick, stone, iron, glass, and fittings in natural wood, and will be one of the finest structures of the kind in America, being completed with every convenience for the traveling public.

A PROMISING TOWN.

Beautiful Glendora Still Forging Ahead.

Of the many promising towns in Southern California Glendora, of this county, is one of the most promising. Its situation is such, being 1200 (feet above he sea level,) that it has many attractions as a sanatarium. The climate is all that could be desired, and the situation of the town is such as to captivate the eye of the scenic artist. Glendora is at the terminus of the Santa Fe Railroad, who have constructed a depot much larger than in Los Angeles county outside of this city. A University to cost $50,000 is about to be erected. This will be a valuable addition to the buildings now there. The next meeting and fair of the Pomological Society will be held in this enterprising burg in January. Glendora will by the pluck, industry and enterprise of her liberal citizens, soon become a city of note.

The Alhambra Hotel

An Important Feature of Southern California.

The most charming hotel in Southern California is situated much to the advantage of Los Angeles—at Santa Monica, and is called the Hotel Arcadia. Every advantage of ocean and land view has been grasped by the architect of this modern caravansary.

Its natural advantages are climatic and scenic. The days and nights are warm, the temperature changing but little in the twenty-four hours. On the ocean side of the hotel, in the sun rooms, the temperature is from 75 to 80 degrees. At present writing, on the land side, on the ranchos, it is from 67 to 72. Hundreds of people bathe daily in the open sea, the beach being one of the most celebrated surf beaches in America. The beach stretches for miles along the shore, and the drive on the beach, as well as to the canyons and along the hill sides, is picturesque and enjoyable.

The hotel itself is a model of comfort and elegance. We have but to mention a few of the advantages to give our readers an idea of its conveniences. It contain a steam elevator, ga , electric bells, hot and cold water, hot salt water baths in the house, surf bathing within twenty yards of the house, 600 feet of wide covered porches surrounding the house, as well as the sun porch which is a feature for invalids. Not an inside room in the house. The dining room and parlors overlook the ocean. The house is elegantly furnished and the service and table have no superior anywhere. It is indeed one of the few all round year re orts in the world.

Three trains by the Southern Pacific Railroad are run to and from Santa Monica daily, and at such hours as will accommodate persons who wish to do business in Los Angeles and enjoy the comforts of the above described locality of the Hotel Arcadia.

Go to the auction sale at Santa Ana Friday December 23d, and buy a lot for a Christmas present for your wife, brother, sister or mother-in-law.

Water is king in California. Strangers should beware of deception about this indispensable article. Citrus fruits can't be raised without it. Many sellers promise water but few can show it and guarantee it. The Porter Land and Water Co., First and Spring streets, invite inspection of their lands and water at San Fernando.

Acreage in Bannister's addition to Santa Fe Spring is selling rapidly. Now is the time to buy, as the A., T. & S. F. and S. P. Railroads will be running trains through the tract by January next. Prices will be advanced soon. Will pay to investigate.

BYRAM & POINDEXTER,
27 West First street.

Fifty thousand dollars spent in perfecting the water system of the Porter Land and Water Co. at San Fernando, and an inspection will show that no system in the valley can compete with it. The company can give any amount desired. Go see for yourself. Office at San Fernando, or First and Spring, Los Angeles.

San Fernando defies competition in the citrus fruit lands. She defies anybody to find a scale bug in the valley or a finer climate anywhere. It would pay to go and see the old Mission, even if one does not want land. Recollect, water in quantities desired by purchaser guaranteed and shown to be already flowing.

---:THE HEMET LAND COMPANY:---

Now offer for sale 7000 acres of the Best and Cheapest Land in California at $150 per acre. Easy Terms. The heart of the magnificent San Jacinto Valley, San Diego County,

The only great valley as yet undeveloped and cheap. The richest of soil, abundance of water, and an elevation of 1600 to 1900 feet above sea level, making a climate that is delightfully warm, bracing and dry; the perfect climate for all throat and lung troubles.

The Grandest Water Supply in the State!

Eighteen miles up in the mountains, at an elevation of 4375 feet, a granite dam costing $130,000 is being constructed in Hemet valley, to hold the water which is supplied by the immense snow shed of Mt. San Jacinto, 10,987 feet high, Mt. Toewish and Mt. Herke. This will form LAKE HEMET, covering 600 acres at an average depth of 65 feet, and containing 6,000,000,000 gallons, or 9000 miner's inches of water, enough to irrigate more than 100,000 acres of land. This water will be delivered in 22-inch iron pipes, under 723 feet fall. An inch of water guaranteed to every eight acres, and water right conveyed with every acre sold.

NO FOGS! NO FROST!

Unsurpassed for the finest Naval Oranges, Raisin Grapes, and all Deciduous Fruits. South San Jacinto will be the city of Northern San Diego County. Broad streets and avenues. In the center is a beautiful hill of 600 acres reserved for a park, upon which this winter 100,000 forest and ornamental trees, already purchased, will be planted, surrounded by a boulevard four miles long, 100 feet wide, with double avenue of trees. Brick hotel, brick offices and stores now being erected. $500,000 to be spent in improvements this coming year. Everything that unlimited capital can do will be done to make a model city.

Climate, Soil, Water and Capital have made Southern California, and SOUTH SAN JACINTO has them all, as no other one place has. It immediately adjoins San Jacinto 16 miles east of Perris, on the Santa Fe, and 14 miles south of San Gorgonio on the Southern Pacific, and at present reached by daily stages. The Santa Fe is now actually building direct from Perris. Get in before the railroad boom.

Our New Year Edition.

The New Year edition of the HERALD for 1888 will be the most complete publication of the kind yet issued in Southern California. It will contain a vast amount of statistics of our progress, and of descriptive articles of this section. The edition will be of mammoth proportions, and will afford the best medium for advertisers ever put before our people. The space is nearly all taken. Work on this edition will soon begin. It, therefore, behooves those who desire space, or given number of the issue to leave their orders at the desk in our business office at a very early day.

To Tourists.

New arrivals in the city cannot send back to their friends at the old home a more acceptable memento of their visit here than a copy of the ILLUSTRATED G. A. R. HERALD. A very small number remains on sale at this office.

WE HAVE hooked on to Webfoot land. The last spike is driven and trains between Los Angeles and Portland arrive and depart on schedule time. The achievement is indeed a great one. Not less than 1500 miles of rail! The writer has ridden over entire distance in the old Concord stages of "auld lang syne," and then has gone on to Victoria by stage and boat. It was a great undertaking to span the coast with steel rails. The work over Scott's mountains and in the Grand Cañon south of Roseburg in the State of Oregon was Tytanic in its nature. From New Orleans at the mouth of the Mississippi to Portland on Wallamet, is three thousand, three hundred and thirty-six miles. One continuous line of road reaches the entire distance. The system embraces branches which increase the mileage to a round five thousand miles of railroad under one management. This means much—very much to us. Seven years ago this place was shut out from the rest of the world. We now have direct communication by rail with the entire South and Middle-East via the "Sunset" Route; with the whole interior of the country via the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe system; with the central territories and Western States via the Central and Union Pacifics; and with the far Northwest even to Alaska, and with the extreme northern tier of States and Territories via this new road to Oregon and thence via the Northern Pacific. The Canadian Pacific brings us to all the Domain of Canada. Here are 70,000,000 of people to draw on us for the products of our soil. In these we have no competition. Now let us be up and doing! From our farms should go by all these routes trains laden with fresh vegetables in the dead of winter; others carrying fruits in the natural state all days in the year, and still others laden with dried and canned fruits of all sorts. Our industries must be developed until the people in all this vast North American continent shall not be able to decide whether they are more beholden to South California for their potatoes or their oranges.

SHALL we, or shall we not move in the matter of getting the beet sugar industry set on foot in this section? This is the coming industry of the State. California is going to furnish sweets for the entire continent of North America. Oranges will hardly pay as large a net profit per acre as beets for sugar will. There is no ten years to wait for the trees to grow. A farmer gets his returns within the year—twice a year for that matter. The whole extent of the coast from Santa Monica to Newport Harbor is just the land for the production of sugar beets. From Florence to Long Beach, from Downey City to the sea at Los Alamitos, from Anaheim city to Anaheim Landing, from Santa Ana to Newport Harbor—all that expanse of territory may challenge the Globe to furnish better land for beets. Mr. Spreckels is thoroughly in earnest about this matter. Proper presentation of the question would secure his attention to our section. Los Angeles should have a refinery. There should be half a dozen factories scattered through the county to extract the syrup for this central refinery. But while we should have all these, the question is shall we have any of them? We shall not unless we do something to secure them.

GRASS is not to be let grow under the official feet in the matter of setting up the Soldiers' Home. Captain Blanding is expected here to-day, and the understanding is that in a very short time work will begin on the edifice near Santa Monica. The amount appropriated is $150,000. Then there is to be $10,000 per annum furnished by a local contribution for the purpose of adorning the grounds. The ample six hundred acres are to be laid out in the highest style of landscape gardening. All this is as it should be. The idea of having a Soldiers' Home in this State is in order that the battle-scarred veterans now bending low beneath the burden of years and infirmities begotten of exposure in the field, may enjoy the benefits of our glorious climate. After looking the State over the committee wisely decided that here near Los Angeles was the place where this would be best accomplished. The climate is the main point. The warriors are growing old. Every year is a long time in their case. They cannot wait for years as younger people can. Let the Home therefore be upraised on the sunny slope by the warm waves of Pacific seas, and bring the heroes along to recline in the winter sunshine like the Lotus eaters of the poet.

WE FEEL constrained to apologize to our readers for a somewhat curtailed amount of news this morning. It is not because we are leaving out any of the current happenings of the day here or elsewhere, but these must be presented in a more concise style than is our wont. An unduly long letter list, and a crowding plethora of business announcements pressed upon us through the unremitting kindness of the public are our excuse. Readers of the HERALD, we know, will feel disposed to pass our imperfections by for once, in view of the far superior amount of reading matter laid before them as a regular thing. Our achievement of yesterday morning was particularly noticeable in its quantity and quality. In both elements of a good paper, no journal in the State outside of San Francisco will bear a comparison with this. The same is true of at least three hundred and sixty days out of the year.

"Wants," "Personals" and other advertisements under the following heads inserted at the rate of 5 cents per line for each insertion.

CAUTION TO NURSERYMEN.

A Circular by the State Inspector of Fruit Pests.

In view of the continued spread of certain dangerous scale insects, especially of the "fluted" or "cottony cushion" scale (Icerya purchasi) throughout the State, due partly to the fact that in their early and minute stage they are apt to be overlooked, and thus are carried hundreds of miles to new sections, we hereby caution all nurserymen, dealers and purchasers of nursery stock to exercise the utmost caution in selecting their stock, especially of citrus trees, and certain ornamental evergreen trees as well, especially acacias. Before ordering they ought to inquire carefully into the condition of localities from which they buy, to satisfy themselves that no danger of contagion exists. In regard to the location known to be infested, we refer them to our report to the State Board of Horticulture, and to that of Professor Riley to the Department of Agriculture of the United States, and we shall always cheerfully give any information necessary on this point; but due allowance must be made for the utter impossibility of visiting all portions of this vast State, and the fact that in but comparatively few counties we receive any co-operation from local authorities.

To those unacquainted with the appearance and habits of the Icerya we also refer to the report of the State Board of Horticulture and to that of Prof. Riley, where full illustrations and descriptions of this veritable pest of our trees and plants can be found. As matters stand now, we claim it is the bounden duty of any one interested in the welfare of our gardens and orchards to become familiar with this pest and assist in its extermination; otherwise it will only be a question of time when the whole State shall become infested. We shall discourage all buying from any locality known to be infested, and in case of shipment from such places we demand the most thorough disinfection, which shall consist in the dipping for at least one-quarter of a minute of all parts of the tree in a certain solution, viz.:

One pound of lye (American concentrated) or four-fifths of a pound of caustic potash (98 per cent) to a soap solution of twenty-five gallons, made of one pound of the best whale-oil soap (containing no more than 25 per cent of water) to four gallons of water. Solution to be used warm, 110 degrees Fahrenheit.

IMPORTATIONS FROM OTHER STATES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

As it is a fact that we have received our worst insect enemies from other countries, the same caution must be taken in regard to the introduction of them, and importers of orange trees from Japan and Florida are asked to keep me notified as regards the time of receipts of consignments, and I to cooperate with any local authourities that may exist.

As regards the possible importation of the curculio or plum weevil on deciduous trees, we urge the necessity of shipping only trees which are free from soil adhering to the roots.

In regard to the enforcement of these rules we shall rely upon the local quarantine guardians as well as on all honorable dealers to whom we appeal for the closest co-operation in this matter, which is of the utmost importance to the prosperity of the fruit industry and horticulture in general.

W. G. KLEE,
State Inspector of Fruit Pests.
Berkeley, December 13, 1887.

BASEBALL.

The Third Defeat for the Haverlys.

Yesterday's game between the Los Angeles nine and the Haverlys of San Francisco, was but a repetition of the other two, although the attendance at the grounds was much larger. The home nine succeeded in defeating the visitors worse than they have ever been defeated before. These three victories conclusively show of what metal the home club is composed, and how little chance there is for any of the California League to compete with Los Angeles for supremacy. It is doubtful whether any of the nines desire particularly to try. The score of yesterday's game is as follows:

An Unknown Man Dies at Newport Bay.

Coroner J. M. Meredith held an inquest on Saturday morning on the body of an unknown man aged about 60 years, who was found dead at Santa Ana on December 18th.

Frederick Richards testified: I reside in Newport, and am a laborer by occupation. Last Friday afternoon I was informed by some men who had been hunting along the bay, that they had found a man lying on the shore in the mud, and I and several others went up to the place, but having to wait for the tide to take us to the body, it was 10 o'clock the same evening before we got it out. The body was lying on its left side, face slightly downwards. In the right hand the deceased had his hat, and it was partly buried. The left arm and hand were under his head and sticking in the mud. We discovered the body on the east side of the bay, and about two miles from the wharf. I saw tracks on the mud flat. They led to the body and were the tracks of only one person. I am of the opinion that the tracks were those of the deceased. I never saw the deceased before that I know of. The noon tide of Friday had been over the body.

Dr. C. V. Ball, a practicing physician and surgeon of Santa Ana, made a post-mortem examination and found the cause of death to be suffocation, and was of the opinion that said suffocation was caused by the mud filling the mouth and nasal passages.

The jury returned the following verdict: "That the deceased came to his death by suffocation by mud and water, in a slough at the edge of Newport Bay, and we, the jury, believe the same to have been accidental."

James O'Neill.

James O'Neill in Monte Cristo will make his first appearance to-night at the Grand Opera House before a Los Angeles audience. Mr. O'Neill is considered throughout the country as one of the best actors in America. He is a strong San Francisco favorite, having been the leading man at the Baldwin Theater Stock Company for years and also at Hooley's, McVicker's Theaters, Chicago, and Union Square Theater, New York. Mr. O'Neill is the only actor who has made a success in Monte Cristo, having played it now for over four years, and his business this season is larger than all former seasons. He has concluded not to look for any new production for some years to come. An exchange says: "Mr. O'Neill kept his hearers wrapt in attention as the outspoken sailor boy, afterward the miserable prisoner of eighteen years, and then as the cool and determined possessor of the treasure of Monte Cristo—with vengeance his only aim. The naturalness of his calm demeanor, or the outbursts of his passion caught the audience and swayed it from admiration to awe. His interpretation of the character is truly grand.

Pedestrian Contest.

Silver cup, presented by F. J. Phillips, Esq., 100 yards—Amateur: R. K. Briggs, Durham, England; J. Gray, Buffalo, N. R.; A. Fox, Los Angeles; E. C. Cawston, Maidstone, England; C. D. Oldershaw, Rosamond; C. F. Cawthorne, Los Angeles; B. J. Perry, Stafford, England; C. Fox, Madeira; J. R. Stone, Norwalk; G. Edwards, Cincinnati, O.; W. J. Fray, Los Angeles; J. C. Boeckenridge, Los Angeles; P. Hoyt, London, England; W. J. King, R. J. Donahue, B. Benjamin, Los Angeles.

Professional handicap, 100 yards, $100 in prizes: D. Bowman, Dundee, Scotland; C. H. Walls, G. Olpherts, Los Angeles; G. McFetridge, Chicago; R. E. Wilkinson, Los Angeles; T. C. Moffatt, New York; W. E. Godfrey, P. McKernan, Los Angeles; G. Daw, San Francisco; F. Wylie, London, England; J. Brown, Liverpool, England; C. P. Ephraim, Los Angeles; J. Bevan, San Francisco; J. Thompson, Philadelphia; James Wilson, Pasadena; James Alfred, San Diego; B. F. Butterfield, Los Angeles.

The handicaps will be announced in a few days. J. Thompson is doing some wonderfully fast sprinting at the racetrack. He is a grand specimen of humanity, and bounds over the ground like a rubber ball.

The Social Side.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Bell gave a very pleasant reception last evening at their residence on Park avenue. The reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Mills of California, who are at present the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bell. It was not especially elaborate affair, on the contrary more of the quiet, informal sort, which is ever equally a delight to both the host and hostess and the guests. The latter were for the most part the old settlers and pioneers of the city. In fact, it was the special aim of the reception that this well known part of the community should be strongly in the majority.

A Narrow Escape.

Lewis & Co.'s livery stable on Spring street had a narrow escape from total destruction about 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The hay stack back of the barn was discovered to be on fire. Officer Bennedict was the first to see the blaze and gave the alarm. Engine No. 3 was immediately on the spot, and had the fire extinguished before any damage was done to the buildings. It was thought that the fire was set by some tramp, as one of the employés saw one sleeping there about 1:20 o'clock. Many of the horses were taken out. After the engine had gone the fire got under headway again but was extinguished with a few buckets of water.

H. W. Griswold's Death.

As foreshadowed in an item in the HERALD last week the illness of H. W. Griswold, an old and highly respected citizen of San Fernando, proved fatal. He died at the residence of a friend in the city yesterday. His remains were taken to his late home in San Fernando in the evening, and the interment will take place there to-day. Mr. Griswold has lived at San Fernando for many years, and he made fast friends of the neighbors with whom he was brought in contact. He was highly esteemed for his many good qualities, and his death will be mourned by the whole community.

Robbed.

John Welsh visited the race track yesterday to see some of his friends. While there he noticed a game of stud-horse poker going on, and became a spectator. About twenty minutes later, as John was wending his way down the track, he felt for his pocket-book and found he was minus its possession. He informed two officers of the fact, and described two men who had pushed up behind him also as spectators of the game, and doubtless at the same time "went through" him.

Undelivered Telegrams.

The following is the list of undelivered telegrams remaining at the Western Union Telegraph Office on December 18th, at 10 P. M.: J. F. Ellison, O. C. Bunster, Jacob King, Frank Walker, B. J. McCleary, S. P. Eaton, Charles E. Kellar, S. N. Beverforden, Mrs. B. Broser, Mrs. J. B. Thompson, Carry White, Charles Buisse, Mrs. Belle Balt, Mike Dumford, Nora McDonald.

Dr. Dietz, the well-known teacher of French, is confined to his house, 320 Hope street, with rheumatism.

WINTER WEATHER.

A December Sunday in California.

FAIR ANAHEIM VIEWS.

Rich Plains, Snow-Capped Mountains and Eternal Sunshine all Combined.

A HERALD representative who usually works all days in the week, including Sunday, and all weeks in the year, including midsummer and the Christmas holidays, was in great luck last Saturday night. At least so he considered himself when told he might have a "day out" on Sunday. Thinking where he should go to squander his one holiday, Anaheim came into his head as a pleasant place to spend a day. Getting his Saturday night's work well up, and enlisting the interest of a collaborateur to do the rest, away he hied on the late train of Saturday. He found a solid train of four coaches full of people all agog for the south end of the county.

AT ANAHEIM.

Transferring himself from the train to the street car, the newspaper pleasure seeker found about twenty-five other tourists, commercial and otherwise, all bound with him for the Planter's hotel to interview mine host Mason and his cook, especially the cook. Next morning, refreshed and ready for the fray, the pencil-pusher awoke, betimes he did, and having performed his ablutions, external and internal—the latter if not in a cask of malmsey, yet outside of something pleasant—he stepped at last into the open air.

A GLORIOUS MORNING.

The warm glow of golden sunshine filled the sky and air, and bathed the land as genial as the loveliest day in June. The birds were all making the space sonorous with glad songs. The breezes of the zephyr's gentlest touch set the leaves of the orange groves just a tremble, and the golden spheres like the fabled apples of the Hesperides, glistened like gold amid the rich waxy sheen of the foliage.

RICH ANAHEIM.

Far southward spread the broad, rich plain embracing vineyards, orange groves, rich pastures, orchards—the most fertile and varied in its resources in the world. Some fifteen miles away the Pacific lay pulsating and gleaming in the golden sunlight, from his broad breast come these gentle winds loaded to repletion with life-giving ozone, pure, invigorating, health-restoring, youth-giving, as would have been the springs of eternal youth, had Ponce de Leon been able to find them.

THE EVERLASTING HILLS.

All around the north side of the valley the great mountains rose to grand heights, and on their world-old brows they lifted to the skies their snows of countless years. The sun lit up their ridges with such glorious brightness as the imagination pictures on the white heights of Paradise. The shadows slept in the valleys as peacefully as Bunyon's pilgrim saw them on the "Delectable mountains" in his progress to Heaven.

Indeed a more beautiful prospect never stretched before the eyes of man than the landscape which lay all around the rich old "mother colony" on the day in question. No spot even in this semi tropic paradise can boast of any more fascinating picture than was there presented. The rains had started the grasses. The orange groves were washed clean of dust, the roads were hard and clean, the temperature was of that absolutely perfect degree which makes life seem worth living for. Lowell asks:

The answer is last Sunday at Anaheim was as perfect as any day that ever rose out of the night in the "leafy month of June."

NOTES OF PROGRESS.

Things are stirring at Anaheim. The new railroad is graded through the town, across the wash, through Fullerton, west through Orangethorpe to the Coyote House, and will soon be up on the mesa shooting straight for the springs. The Hotel Del Campo contract is let to the Albrecht Bros., an Anaheim firm, and it will be finished in ninety days. Then Anaheim will have three fine hotels. The Sisters are waiting anxiously for a deed from the Dreyfus estate to their lots in order that they may proceed with the building of their academy. The Town Trustees are about to lay water pipes along Cypress street for a distance of several thousand feet. The water company is pushing things on their big reservoir.

A company of railroad contractors with a large force of men from Colorado is expected every day to go on with grading the railroad from Anaheim to Orange. This company will construct the big bridge over the Santa Ana river. Progress is reported on the proposed new road from Anaheim to the landing. Capitalists in San Francisco and Los Angeles have had their interest enlisted in the project. It is sure to go through at an early day. Its advantages to Anaheim will be very great. The Del Campo people are laying cement sidewalks along their tract. Center street is being graded, new houses are seen going up all around the town, and in the country up by North Anaheim and Placentia as well. The new hotel at Fullerton is nearly finished, and will soon be open to guests. Newcomers from the Western States are coming in rapidly and settling in the towns of Anaheim, in Fullerton, at Placentia and all around the country.

ANAHEIM TO THE FRONT.

The attractions of Anaheim and its vicinity are becoming well known. The pure climate, excellent soil, perfect drainage, absence of dust, abundance of water and such elements of the situation are getting to be well understood. Should people recognize the fact that property is held here at less than fifty per cent. of the prices held in other places, they see that as water seeks its level, the intrinsic value of lands at Anaheim will push prices up to the ranges of the other most eclectic spots in Los Angeles County, and that there will be a big day of reckoning with a large balance in favor of those who buy now.

Well, the new hotels at Anaheim and Fullerton will be finished soon, and when they are the newsgatherer will beg another day off, go to Anaheim and spend it pleasantly again. By the by, on Christmas eve Captain Keith will have a big rabbit hunt, perhaps that may be the day. Although the hotels will not be quite open yet, the novelty of the rabbit round-up will do.

'Tis An Ill Wind

That brings with it gusts of rain from the north-east. When the wind blows from that quarter on a wet day, the rheumatic are apt to suffer, even if seated by their "gin comfortable ingle" in a cosy arm chair. A few wine-glassfulls of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—most genial and comforting of specifics—will afford them unspeakable relief. There is ample proof on record of its efficacy in this disease—more particularly if used for its relief at the onset. Chills and fever, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, and a lack of tone in the kidneys and bladder, should also be treated with this useful family medicine of botanic origin. Appetite improves, refreshing slumber once more visits the weary eyelids of the nervous, and the circulation is enriched and accelerated in consequence of its invigorating and regulating action. Use it as a protector after getting wet.

Some Good Bargains.

To any one desiring to find good acreage in a first-class settlement—none better in Southern California—good schools and churches convenient. It will pay you to look this up. Lots on Electric railway $400, easy terms.

Twenty acres twelve miles from city, large plastered house and barn, orchard and alfalfa on the place, grounds laid out in good shape, everything ready to go to work to farming. Terms easy. All for $200 per acre.

One hundred acres close to city; good land, very cheap at $125 per acre. To any one doubting that these lands will not produce good crops, please call around and we will convince you.

The bath rooms, which are noted for their cleanliness, are all newly enamelled, and to really enjoy a most luxurious bath, hot or cold, with shower, one must try these. The proprietor has likewise especially put up elegant new enamelled baths for ladies and children. BON TON, 235 and 237 North Main street.

THE GEM OF THE CONTINENT!

-:- REDONDO BEACH, -:-

SIXTEEN MILES SOUTHWEST OF THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES, IS, WITHOUT DOUBT, THE FINEST PLACE ON THE CONTINENT FOR A SEA-SIDE RESORT, AND THE syndicate now doing all that ample means and broad ideas suggest to fully realize the grand result that nature has made possible. Two miles of water front, aligned like a half-moon bay, of which the northern horn is occupied by a remarkable fine pebble beach; the southern part by the very best bathing beach anywhere to be enjoyed; while the middle portion is an abrupt shingled shore, bordering water so deep that the largest ships may lie free from ground swell within a stone's throw of land. Rising behind this frontage a peculiarly beautiful rolling land is backed by low but commanding hills, something less than a mile from shore and in an hitherto form, so that the place is a panorama unto itself from every point of view. The higher grounds look back upon the city of Los Angeles and the Sierra Madre Range, and the ocean view in the opposite direction is set between rocky headlands that hold it as in a frame. A salt spring lake, half a mile in length, whose waters are much more dense than those of the sea, presents opportunities for quiet boating and peculiarly healthful bathing not paralleled at other places. The soils are remarkably fertile; the fresh water supply, to be piped throughout the tract, is pure and abundant, and the sub-soils are open and absorptive. So that beautifying of grounds is of easy accomplishment, and the healthfulness of the place is assured.

A hotel of the most ample dimensions, picturesque effects and perfect appointments is to be built adjoining the beach, on a site terraced to the water-front, promenade, and flanked by a park which extends to the bathing beach on one hand and on the other to the IRON PIER, costing over $100,000, reaching into deep water and arranged for landing of boats of every description, from the mosquito yacht to the trans ocean clipper.

THE CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY.—Grounds for the accommodation of the Chautauqua Assembly of Southern California have been set aside, and here the management are about to build an ample theatre and other permanent structures.

THE OUTLOOK.—The rapid development of REDONDO BEACH, as a place of local pleasure resort and health-giving homes and as a tourist's objective point from far and near, is now assured. Land on water facilities, protected frontage, railway approachability and fine back country insure its future importance as a commercial point. It is a most remarkable place, in that it really admits of a combination of pleasure with business, as an examination will prove to any one of judgement. For particulars call or address

THE BEAUTIFUL FOOT-HILL TOWNSITE

Overlooking the San Gabriel Valley to Pasadena, and the Pomona Valley to South Riverside. Picturesque mountain scenery. The richest soil; no rocks nor wash. Abundance of canyon water. Perpetual exclusion of saloons. Perfect sewerage. Good public schools. Choice location for citrus fruits. Least fog and frost, most ocean breeze, and highest town of San Gabriel Valley. Cooler than places on lower lands, or closer to the mountains. Especially desirable for invalids. A liberal discount to those who build for homes soon. Building progressing rapidly. Sixty-five-room hotel being built. A block reserved for a park. First store to be opened Dec. 1st. A strong company will push this town and see it build in good shape. No better investment in "acre property," or chance to "get in on the ground floor" than to buy stock of the La Verne Land Company.

CONSUMPTION!

ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CATARRH,

ANDRAL-BROCA SYSTEM OF MEDICAL INHALATION,

AND GENERAL TREATMENT

Catarrh of Nose and Throat.

I do not claim that I can cure every case of catarrh, but I do claim that my method will cure the large majority of cases after all other means have failed. The cure is permanent, as can be proven by cases which can be referred to, treated three years ago in this city, with no return of the disease. The fact is now admitted by the best medical writers that chronic catarrh is caused by the presence of living parasites, microscopical in size, in the tissues. The cut below shows these bacilla as they appear under the microscope, magnified 480 diameters.

Imagine millions of these animalculæ in the nose, throat and lungs, as well as the minute eustachian tubes leading from the back part of the throat to the middle ear and you will imagine the misery they can produce. Some go as far as to claim that these insects may penetrate into the brain, and thus cause the distressing headache that is not unfrequently present in bad cases of catarrh.

My method of treatment is to use such remedies as will destroy these parasites for local treatment, and at the same time regulate any abnormal condition (such as impure blood or disordered liver, which will predispose to the development of the catarrh germs,) by the proper constitutional remedies. Every case will be relieved by this treatment, patients often seeing improvement from one treatment to the next, and every case can be cured where the blood is not so thoroughly diseased that no treatment will benefit it. The local treatment is always painless, and can be used at home with very little trouble and no detention from business.

Medical Advocates of Inhalation

Professor Hueber, of the Berlin University, on page 296 of his "Practice," says: "Diseases of the lungs and air-passages present the proper field for the use of inhaled remedies, and the success of inhalation in this class of maladies often seems little short of the miraculous." 4 3

Sir Andrew Stewart, writing on "Pulmonary Consumption," says: "By this method (inhalation) the proper selected remedies are made to act on the immediate seat of the disease with most favorable results, far exceeding even the claims of the first advocates of inhalation.

Dr. Fordyce Baker says: "Inhalation when employed by a physician of skill and experience, yields an extraordinary large percentage of cures in diseases of the air passages. It is unfortunate that so few ordinary practioners have had the training necessary to the use of this method."

CATARRH!

Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption,

Together with Diseases of the Eye, Ear and Heart Successfully Treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D. M. C. P. S. O.

276 N. MAIN STREET,

A few doors south of the New Post Office, Los Angeles, Cal.

Consumption can be cured. This has been demonstrated in thousands of cases treated by DR. WILLIAMS, with his new system of medicated inhalations combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

CATARRH.

To those who are afflicted with any of the different forms of Catarrh, we would say, there is no disease which presents a greater diversity of symptoms, none more loathsome, insidious, and dangerous as Nasal Catarrh, especially if complicated as it almost always is, even from its first appearance, with an affection of the throat.

From the earliest symptoms (which are generally attributed to a "cold in the head") to the various ugly and distressing stages through which the disease passes the patient is hopeful of recovery, and rarely gives it proper attention until certain alarming symptoms present themselves, denoting unmistakably the rapid advance of the malady to the lungs. Indeed, so various are the symptoms that the presence of the disease is not always known, or even suspected, until it has reached a stage difficult to arrest. The disease may or may not be attended by a discharge from the nostrils or throat; but there is usually present a morbid secretion and a frequent disposition (especially in the morning) to clear the throat, and the effort to do so is often, though not always, attended by expectoration; there is a sensation of heaviness in the frontal part of the head, and the brain sometimes suffers to an extent producing headache, vertigo and confusion; it becomes difficult to think clearly and to concentrate the mind; the memory becomes impaired and the intellect enfeebled; despondency of spirits and an excitable condition of the nervous system. Such is the effect of the disease, and if to this train of symptoms (which not infrequently leads to insanity or idiocy) we add many of the more loathsome physical effects, as caries, or rottenness of the bones of the face and head, a most offensive smell to the breath, and corrupt, morbid and poisonous secretions, destruction or serious injury to the sense of smell, hearing, sight and taste, we have a catalogue of horrors which would lead any person to make early and proper efforts to eradicate the disease from the system. Every case of Catarrh is curable if properly treated.

BRONCHITIS.

Acute Bronchitis is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most common of the pulmonary diseases. It is a dangerous disease, as it prevents the oxygenation of the blood, and in many cases, particularly after it passes into the chronic stage, the substance of the lungs becomes seriously involved, giving rise to what is very properly called Bronchial Consumption. In the acute form there is a sense of tightness or pressure across the chest, with considerable wheezing, severe cough and expectoration. This is at first a white glairy mucous, which after a time becomes purulent. The patient in some cases is obliged to sit up in bed, the oppression across the chest is so great; the skin is clammy and prostration rapidly sets in, and in fatal cases there will be muttering delirium, coma and death.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

Chronic Bronchitis is also an inflammation of the mucous membranes of the bronchial tubes. When a cold settles on the lungs the disease either ends in bronchitis or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold on the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of his hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of thick mucus, followed by a hectic flush, loss of flesh and strength and night sweats continue, when the patient assumes all the appearance of having a genuine case of consumption. But this is simply catarrh of the lungs or chronic bronchitis.

In the later stage of the disease the mucous membrane of the larger bronchial tube softens, while in the smaller tubes and air cells of the lungs the mucous membrane becomes congested and inflamed. There are no cavities nor tubercle in the lungs, but merely a wasting away of the larger bronchial tubes, and death takes place from obstruction of the bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs. The patient dies from exhaustion and suffocation, being unable to expectorate the mucous which accummulates in the passage leading to the lungs, which in some cases is sticky and small in quantity, but more commonly copious, of a light straw or yellowish green. Oftentimes streaks of blood make their appearance in the mucous, and at times there is a disagreeable smell. Persons thus afflicted are very liable to take a cold, at which time the mucous becomes clear and frothy, and it is not uncommonly the case that the patient dies in one of these attacks.

CONSUMPTION.

From consumers, "to waste away," usually applied to the advanced stage of lung disease.

The following are prominent symptoms in the first stage, and wherever any of them exist a thorough examination should be made with a view to arresting the disease if shown to exist: There is usually a sense of weariness upon exercising, a disposition to remain passive and idle, despondency, often from no apparent cause, a peculiar sensitiveness to the effect of cold, and a breathlessness on moving quickly or descending a hill or stairs, a slight hacking cough, with or without expectoration, excitability upon slight occasions, flying pains across the chest or back, or under the shoulder blades. The symptoms are more noticeable toward or during the night, slight fever in the afternoon, cold feet or hands, or in many cases blue lividity of the lips and roots of the finger nails.

Inhalations are applicable in all diseases of the respiratory organs, but must be prepared for each individual case as they severally require.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedy at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success. The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.—Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination but, if impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address

HESPERIA.

The Denver of California!

HESPERIA is located in San Bernardino County, on the main line of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, and about 25 miles north of San Bernardino. The situation is most beautiful, the town being in the Hesperia Valley, surrounded by the San Bernardino Mountains on the south and the Hesperia Mountains on the north. The Valley is about 3000 feet above the level of the sea.

There is a great abundance of the finest quality of water. The Company has already spent upwards of $200,000, in perfecting its waterworks. Water is brought from a pure mountain stream eleven miles away, being conducted in a large canal cut through the rock in the mount in side and through seven miles of steel and iron pipes to the town. There is water enough to meet all requirements for a large city and for 100,000 of acres of land beside. Lands have been set apart for the benefit of a school fund, and a schoolhouse is to be commenced at once. The company offers generous inducements for the building of churches. A complete system of sewerage has been begun. Capital for a bank has been fully subscribed. Work is to be at once begun upon many substantial residences and business blocks. Gas and electric light plants are to be put in by the company. A horsecar line and motor railway will be built by the company to run through the tract. A neat and attractive station is to be built. Beautiful parks and boulevards will be laid out. The principal business and residence streets will be paved, and cement sidewalks will be laid. A first-class weekly paper will be published at Hesperia, the initial number to appear early in December. All that intelligence, energy and capital can do to build up a town will be done for Hesperia. Hesperia combines the altitude scenery and commercial advantages of Denver, with the climate and soil of the best portions of Southern California. The development of water in this great valley marks a new era in the progress and growth of Southern California—extending its productions and planting a city whose future will be second to none in this part of the State. It will pay anyone to investigate the above statements of simple fact.

For full information call upon or address: THE HESPERIA LAND COMPANY, or THE HESPERIA WATER COMPANY, Office, No. 10 North Spring Street. d7-4t
